

USING A STOP CARD

Starting and finishing activities can be difficult for some children.

It is important for children to know when an activity or event starts and finishes, particularly when it finishes.

Without this knowledge, it may be difficult and confusing for children to move on to another activity.

If you do not have access to a stop symbol or printer then drawing your own symbol may be an alternative.

